On what ever fine or $ amount is judged ,that will only be to the American consumer. In my thoughts look what Microsoft has done since it's 1995 opening of Windows . Your own web page DOJ could not have been done without the expertise of Microsoft programmers etc... Think about it. As a consumer I hope we will not be "touched" by this small misunderstanding between parties involved. If I was the the judge I would have thrown it out due to this is a case which has never been tried because Microsoft went a step beyond reasoning and brought it to the public and is very successful at it. Court adjourned. Sincerely, Jamey Odau
